

Before writing in your book, check carefully to make sure there are no printing flaws in your book such as: blank pages, upside down pages, missing pages, printing smears. If you discover any of these or other flaws, please bring book to the Yearbook Room before you write in the book. Once you have written in the book, it's yours to keep!

Once you have made sure there are no major flaws in your book, write your name in it for better insurance against theft. If you have any complaints about the book, or recommendations for next year, please put them in writing, suggest a way to solve the problem, and bring it to the Yearbook Room.

This is a student publication. Although we have made every attempt to make this an accurate account of the year, some errors are bound to occur.

We hope you enjoy the 2014 edition of the
S-VE, Alpha-Omega Yearbook.

The Yearbook staff welcomes positive comments and criticism. However, the public must realize that the yearbook is the product of an extra-curricular club. Many of the students have no prior experience with journalism writing or design. This is a 124-page yearbook created between the months of September and March by teenagers for a teenage audience. Please remember that any and all students were welcomed to join our club and help with the yearbook creation and proofing.

If the purchaser has a comment or complaint about the current volume of the yearbook, it must be made in writing within 10 days of distribution. Letters should be short and to the point with specific references to pages. Verbally abusive and accusatory language will not be accepted. The letter should be sent to the attention of the yearbook staff:
